

Meetings with Marisol

During certain periods of the year, Marisol participates in meetings with her readers and offers drawing workshops for children. At these meetings, Marisol reveals, using dolls, sketches, original drawings and prints, how a book is created, from writing to binding. She also explains how her books' heroes are born. Marisol speaks of her craft and dialogs with children. For the drawing workshops, some prep work is required for each kid will be asked to illustrate a book's page.
